JAKARTA, 6 June 2016 - The election of Rodrigo Duterte as the new president of the Philippines tops the June 2016 edition of "ASEAN Today." Raissa Chentami of The Indonesia Channel anchors the program from Jakarta, home of the ASEAN Secretariat. She also reports on the concerns over a popular tiger attraction in Thailand, and luxury villas in Cambodia's historic Siem Reap region.

This is the 54th episode in the informative and entertaining series now in its fifth year of broadcast and can be viewed on the Internet (<https://youtu.be/eMUhFJT5ZRE>) as well as through ASEAN broadcasters including The Indonesia Channel and Vietnam's VOV-TV.

"ASEAN Today" is a joint production of the ASEAN Secretariat and The Indonesia Channel, supported by AirAsia. Some materials are provided by broadcasters in member countries. Check local listings for broadcast times. For more information, contact Wendee Widiyanti at wendee@theindonesiachannel.com
